Proper maintenance and care

Waxing before using the tumbler

We recommend waxing the inside of the tumbler before use just to make sure it is supple as sometimes shipping can dry out the wood.

Cleaning instructions

Thoroughly wipe clean the inside and the outside, repeat several times after ringing the cloth out if you need to clean more carefully.

All you need to clean your tumbler is a damp cloth (preferably cotton).

Waxing the tumbler for maintenance

You should use the wax once every couple of months or as you think is needed when the wood seems somewhat dry. After cleaning the tumbler it is advisable to put on a layer of wax and working it into the wood in a circular fashion.

Weekly Regimens For Long Term Extra Care

If you want to go the extra mile, here are instructions to help your tumbler last forever: Week 1: Apply the beeswax daily with a non-terry small rag, prior to going to bed to let it absorb overnight. Wipe down in the morning.

Week 2-4: Apply once a week for one month, then after a month elapses, apply it once a month for the first year.

After the first year, apply it every 6-12 months. You can store the beeswax cloth in a ziplock bag. A little care upfront will enhance the beauty for years of enjoyment.

You can always purchase more wax from our site www.nisnasindustries.com

Useful tips

If ever you see cracks beginning to appear, using the wax on this area and allowing for a day for the wood to reseal will usually close the gap back up as the wood is pliable and will seal.
